Hey peter, i think I fixed the window. My uncle helped me, bc the wood really softened after taking off the "grease." I'm going to patch up the wall where there is a hole, if that's ok w you? With your blessing, Id like to repaint it, w white kitchen paint?

It doesn't change the termite damage that may extend beyond the wall. But I get that you might be dealing w a lot, and my health is crappy, so just happy the window seems solid for now- given the ants are staying outside. It's aesthetically a lot better too.

Tomorrow, I have a guy coming around 9am, that's going to help me build stuff. That's if he shows up. Just wanted to let you know. Hope you're ok!

Thanks for the update 🙏
That sounds like a good / temp fix
I assume you got the box of blinds I put by your door.

Yes. That works. I'm just not very helpful these days.

We're good
Don't worry
That guy was doing what I've had other contractors do, and I've been royally "you know what" by guys like that before
One guy stole 30k from me just before Covid and disappeared
